CREATIVE CONTENT COMMUNITY INFORMS TOP BUSINESS LEADERS OF P2P PIRACY THREAT ON COMPANY NETWORKS

(October, 24) - Members of the creative content industries this week will send out a letter to the "Fortune 1,000" U.S. corporations urging them to take whatever steps necessary to ensure that their networks are not being misused to infringe copyrighted works.

The letter points out that piracy of music, movies and other creative works is taking place at a surprisingly large number of companies. It highlights that allowing employees to use corporate networks to illegally distribute copyrighted music and movies is no different from software piracy.

The letter is attached and is authored by the Motion Picture Association of America (MPAA), the National Music Publishers' Association (NMPA), Recording Industry Association of America (RIAA), and the Songwriters Guild of America (SGA).
